Subject: THANK YOU

Hey Andy,

Hope you got some sleep in the heat last night!

So, I got a call from New York this morning. The pictures got through!

You're amazing. That was one of the most fascinating tech journies I have ever been on! Everyone here wanted me to thank you. And I'm going to mail you a check.

You know, I want to appreciate you for modelling the kind of character and behavior that I feel is exactly what we need more of right now. You lead with contribution. That's what I do. That's what we ALL need to do. Think of it. If everyone lived their lives asking one question: what can I offer that will help? What a world it would be.

I'm working to make that read: "what a world it WILL be." Having a friend like you "out there" is really encouraging. So, thank you my friend. My wish for you is that unimagined rewards come your way. You deserve them!

Cheers,

Will
